"Mike" Molarino's single over third broke up a ten-inning pitcher's battle between Opeka, of North Chicago, and Bixby, a newly acquired slant artist for Antioch. Bixby had the best of the argument throughout the game, striking out sixteen batters and allowing but six scattered hits, one being a home run drive over Burn's head in the fourth inning by Merlok, which scored the only run made by the North Chicago lads. The one run looked pretty big, for Opeka was bending them over in wonderful fashion, allowing but seven hits, and not allowing a man past second base until the seventh inning, when Antioch got three men on bases with only one out. Opeka then tightened up and made "Red" Fields pop out to the first baseman and Hook knock an easy roller to the pitcher for the third out.

Antioch managed to put a marker across in the eighth inning, when Burns drew a pass, E. Hook and G. Fiala fanned, and Fields also walked. Molarino was sent to bat for L. Hook and knocked a double between left and center, scoring Burns and putting Fields on third base. Nabor was sent to bat for L. Fiala and fanned, making the third out, making the score one each. Neither team was able to get a man on base in the ninth inning. In the tenth inning Bixby struck out the first two men and the third man fled out to E. Hook. E. Hook started the tenth inning by flying out to the catcher, G. Fiala knocked a two base hit to center, Fields again walked and Molarino as stated in the first paragraph sent a single over third, ending the game.

Ignatz Potz, who was saved from the gallows in a midnight reprieve by Gov. Small, will renew his fight for life. His reprieve expires Aug. 18.

Potz was under sentence to hang Friday morning for the murder of William Peterson, a motorcycle policeman.

Lester William, his attorney, began his fight armed with an affidavit by a Kenosha, Wis., saloonkeeper, who admitted perjury at the trial. Williams told Gov. Small that Potz had been pushed through a speedy trial and railroaded to the gallows so Judge Claire C. Edwards could hear the governor's own trial.

The official paper issued by Gov. Small which gave Potz his sixty day lease of life and which the governor handed to Sheriff Elmer Green, under which the sheriff halted his plans for the hanging:

Ye Editor's Troubles

The poor editor is holding his head. A merchant has just been in and told him to raise with the mail order houses. The merchant does not believe in advertising and uses stationery furnished by an axle grease concern turned out by the thousands by some slap-stick printer with a drag with the concern whose produce they sell, and mail order advertising circulars made up by an advertiser who never heard of the store or town whose copy he is writing up. No wonder the poor editor is holding his head.

Mountain of Sulphur.

By looking on a map of the South seas, one can find the New Hebrides, about 900 miles east of Queensland, Australia, and southeast of the Solomons. At the north end of the group is an island called Vanua Lava. This island is a mountain, a big one, 1,900 feet high and covering an area of 100 square miles. But the remarkable thing about it is that it is composed wholly of sulphur. Nothing like it is to be found anywhere in the world.

Miss Leonard and Albert Anderson United in Marriage

One of the very prettiest weddings ever held in the Lake Villa church was solemnized Saturday afternoon at four o'clock when Ruby Ellen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Leonard became the bride of Albert Bernard Anderson of Evanston, the Rev. McCloskey reading the very impressive ring ceremony. The church had been very tastefully decorated for the occasion with potted plants, cut flowers and green leaves and the ceremony took place under an arch of roses. A friend of the bride from Evanston sang very beautifully "O, Promise Me," and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. George Mitchell at the piano. The bride had a friend, Miss Gertrude Biese, as maid of honor and the groom was attended by Erwin Walters. The four sisters of the bride, Mrs. Joe Eberler, Mrs. Fred Hodgkins, Mrs. Carl Reinbach and Mrs. Jack Miller were bridesmaids and the brothers in law, Joe Eberler, Fred Hodgkins, Carl Reinbach and Jack Miller were ushers. Little Jean Barbara Muench and Betty Jane Reinbach, a niece of the bride, were flower girls. The bride was very becomingly attired in white satin gown with train and veil and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father. After the ceremony, over seventy attended the reception at the home of the brides parents. The bride was born and raised here and has host of friends to wish her joy and happiness. They left for parts unknown for the week end, mid a shower of rice and old time, but will take a trip later. They will make their home in Chicago, the groom is employed by the Chicago Telephone company. Several friends and relatives from Chicago and Lake Forest attended the wedding, also the groom's mother from Michigan.

Wanted—A Girl With a Kind Heart; Gee

In the want ad section of today's paper appears the following ad: Young man of 25 would like to hear from a good girl, age 17 to 23. One with a kind heart.—Harry Roberts, Corliss, Wis.

A similar letter was received at the News office some months ago, but was not published because the young man had not stated his name or object. But when a young man is so persistent, it is an easy matter to guess his object. From the character of his letters he appears to be refined and—don't rush him girls, give all an equal chance.

Loon Lake Girl Injured in Auto Accident

While attempting to "flip-on" an automobile, being driven by Frank Dibble last Thursday, Miss Dorothy Banks, of Loon Lake was severely cut and bruised about the body, and was removed to the Wesley hospital in Chicago. With several other people, Miss Banks had been in swimming at Loon Lake, and upon getting ready to return, she jumped on the running board, the car skidded, the front wheel striking Miss Banks, and she was thrown forcefully on the ground. It is expected to take three weeks before Miss Banks will be able to leave the hospital.

Buttercup Seeds as Food.

The seeds of the buttercup are so small that we would scarcely think of them as a source of food for human beings; yet it is said that the Indians formerly gathered them for that purpose. At first thought, collecting them in sufficient quantity would seem like an almost endless task. But after one has seen them growing as thickly as grain—as in the cases above referred to, for instance—the situation takes on a new light.—Los Angeles Times.

Rutledge Cons. Co. Awarded Bid for Antioch Section

Successful Bidder Big Contractor of Rockford—Expects to Complete Improvement in 60 Days

TO START WORK IMMEDIATELY

The bid for the building of the Antioch section of Route 21 was let to the A. E. Rutledge Construction Co., of Rockford, Ill., the announcement coming from Springfield late Wednesday afternoon.

This company is one of the biggest contractors in northern Illinois and Mr. Rutledge informed the News he was ready to put his men on the road immediately and that he would probably complete the work in 60 days.

The Rutledge Cons. Co., bid of $80,888.60 was the lowest of the bids received at the village, but his bid to the state, $25,879, was over $2000 more than the bid submitted at Springfield by E. H. Merrick Cons. Co., whose bid to the village was $81,773.18, the board of local improvement there by deeming advisable to withhold the letting of the bid until after the conference at Springfield.

Will Pay Milk Checks By Bond Issue on Holdings

That the new Chicago Milk marketing contract will become the standard pooling document for co-operative dairy marketing organizations of the entire country was the statement made by Aaron Sapiro, California co-operative marketing expert, in addressing five thousand dairymen who met in six points in the Chicago zone last week, to begin the re-organization of the Milk Producers Co-operative Marketing company.

"No other contract so far developed by any section of the United States," said Mr. Sapiro, "presents clauses which so thoroughly protect not only the producers but the dealer and consumer as well."

The meetings developed the fact that all held up milk checks of the company will be paid at once by an issue of negotiable bonds against milk plants held by the company. Announcement was made of a new feature which provides that the service charge is to be collected from the dealer. Dealers will pay members for their milk a greater price than they will pay non-members.

"The essential difference," he declared, "between co-operative milk marketing and the present individual system, the producer who knows nothing of conditions, brings in his milk and trusts to fortune as to whether the milk will be used and how it will be used. He can do nothing but dump his product upon the market. Under the co-operative system, however, such as this contract will set up, the milk will be distributed in an orderly manner to each market in just such a proportion as the market is able to absorb. That which should logically be shipped to Chicago for consumption will be directed most advantageously while other milk which properly belongs to outlying creameries and condensaries will be diverted for their use."

"Payments to the producers are to be made on a basis used for the first time in the history of milk marketing," said Mr. Sapiro, "four different money pools are to be created: First, receipts from fluid milk sales; second, sales of milk for condensaries; third, for cheese; fourth, butter. The average price received by the lowest pool will be used as the basis for all payments to the dairyman. In addition, the producers delivering milk for use in one of the higher priced pools will receive a proportionately larger amount."

"A reserve fund is to be deducted from the milk checks to enable the company to gradually acquire condensaries and creameries should the need develop."

The committee, Messrs. King, Vos and Hillebrand, who made the trip to Springfield for the letting of the states end of the bid, Wednesday morning, in conjunction with County Supt. Russell, were very successful in securing a much higher bid than the low figure which the state had the right to accept, but due to the difference between the estimated price of about $27,000 and the low figure submitted by the Merrick Cons. Co., $22,658.06, the state agreed to split the difference accepting a price of $24,895.83.

As the figures now stand the total cost of the improvement to the village will be approximately $62,652.77.

This figure is secured as follows:

Rutledge bid to village.....$80,888.60
States acceptance.....$24,895.83
Village pays contractor.....$55,992.77
Engineering and other exp. $ 6,660.00
Net cost to Village.....$62,652.77

The members of the local board of improvement made a trip to Kenosha, Monday, to look over the work done by the Merrick Cons. Co. and made a trip to Rockford, Tuesday, to look over the work done by the Rutledge Cons. Co. They report the construction work done by both of these companies as A-1.

The choice between the Merrick Construction Co., and the Rutledge Construction Co., was quite a problem for the local board and they reserved their decision until after the conference with Mr. Sheets at Springfield, Wednesday.

The state had the privilege of accepting any of the bids submitted to them, the bid accepted being the amount to be rebated to the village. At present the two bids known to have been submitted to Springfield were the Rutledge Construction Co., at $25,879 and the Merrick Cons. Co., at $22,658.06.

The bids were opened at 10 o'clock in the village hall. Those present were Frank King, Herb Vos and William Hillebrand, of the village board of local improvement, Mr. Russell and Mr. Runyard, of Waukegan, and the bidders.

Mr. King announced the bids as follows: Rutledge Cons. Co., $80,888.60; E. H. Merrick Cons. Co., $24,895.83, without cement; Wade Cons. Co., $83,904.00, and the Cook Co. Cons. Co., $85,575.71. The bid submitted by Mr. Merrick was later balanced up and proved to bring his bid slightly above the lowest bidder making it $81,773.18.

After the figures were verified they were each called in to give references. Mr. Rutledge stated that he has contracted considerable work around Rockford, but as that work is tied up he would be free to start work here immediately giving an approximate time of about 60 days for the completion of the work.

Mr. Merrick, who has done work around Kenosha, stated he would be in a position to start work immediately, but that it would probably take three months for completion. Mr. Merrick further stated that he would work in co-operation with the village so as to keep the road open as much as possible during construction.

Mr. Sheets, superintendent of state highways was then got in touch with over the telephone and set Wednesday morning as the time when the state would be ready to let their bid.

Each one of the bidders were compelled to put in a bid to the state. The bid accepted by the state being the amount that will be appropriated by the state, and this amount taken from the village bids will be the total cost of the improvement to the village.

Ramsey Milholland

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright by Doubleday, Page &amp; Company

DORA YOCUM.

Synopsis.—With his grandfather, small Ramsey Milholland is watching the "Decoration Day Parade" in the home town. The old gentleman, a veteran of the Civil war, endeavors to impress the young man with the significance of the great conflict, and many years afterward the boy was to remember his words with startling vividness. In the schoolroom, a few years afterward, Ramsey is not distinguished for remarkable ability, though his pronounced dislikes are arithmetic, "Recitations" and German. In sharp contrast to Ramsey's backwardness is the precocity of little Dora Yocum, a young lady whom in his bitterness he denominated "Teacher's Pet." In high school, where he and Dora are classmates, Ramsey continues to feel that the girl delights to manifest her superiority, and the vindictiveness he generates becomes alarming, culminating in the resolution that some day he will "show" her. At a class picnic Ramsey is captured and bagged by Milla Rust, the class beauty, and endures the agonies of his first love. Ramsey's parents object to Milla and wish he'd taken up with Dora Yocum. Ramsey kisses Milla. Then Milla suddenly leaves town.

CHAPTER VII

He never saw her again. She sent him a "picture postal" from Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, which his father disengaged from the family mail, one morning at breakfast, and considerably handed to him without audible comment. Upon it was written, "Oh, you Ramsey!" This was the last of Milla.

Just before school opened, in the autumn, Sadie Clews made some revelations. "Milla did like you," said Sadie. "After that time you jumped in the creek to save her she liked you better than any boy in town, and I guess if it wasn't for her cousin Milt up in Chicago she would of liked you the best anywhere. I guess she did, anyway, because she hadn't seen him for about a year then."

"Well, that afternoon she went away I was over there and took in everything that was goin' on, only she made me promise on my word of honor I wouldn't even tell Albert. They didn't get any wire from the uncle about the touring car; it was her cousin Milt that jumped on the train and came down and fixed it all up for Milla to go on the trip, and everything. You see, Ramsey, she was turned back a couple of times in school before she came in our class and I don't know how old she is and she don't look old yet, but I'm pretty sure she's at least eighteen, and she might be over. I didn't think such a great deal of this Milt's looks myself, but he's anyway twenty-one years old, and got a good position, and all their family seem to think he's just fine! It wasn't his father that took in the touring car on the debt, like she said she was writing you; it was Milt himself. He started out in business when he was only thirteen years old, and this trip he was gettin' up for his father and mother and Milla was the first vacation he ever took. Well, of course she wouldn't like my tellin' you, but I can't see the harm of it, now everything's all over."

"All over? You mean Milla's going to be married?"

"She already is," said Sadie. "They got married at her Aunt Jess and Uncle Purdy's house, up in Chicago, last Thursday. Yes, sir; that quiet little Milla's a regular old married woman by this time, I expect, Ramsey!"

When he got over the shock, which was not until the next day, one predominating feeling remained: It was a gloomy pride—a pride in his proven maturity. He was old enough, it appeared, to have been the same thing as engaged to a person who was now a Married Woman. His manner thenceforth showed an added trace of seriousness and self-consideration.

Having recovered his equanimity and something more, he entirely forgot that moment of humble admiration he had felt for Dora Yocum on the day of his latest prostration. When he saw her sitting in the classroom, smiling brightly up at the teacher, the morning of the school's opening in the autumn, all his humility had long since vanished and she appeared to him not otherwise than as the scholar whose complete proficiency had always been so irksome to him.

"Look at her!" he muttered to himself. "Same old Teacher's Pet!"

Now and then, as the days and seasons passed, and Dora's serene progress continued, never checked or even flawed, there stirred within him some lingerings of the old determination to "show" her; and he would conjure up a day-dream of Dora in loud lamentation, while he led the laughter of the spectators. But gradually his feeling about her came to be merely a dull oppression. He was tired of having to look at her (as he stated it) and he thanked the Lord that the time wouldn't be so long now until he'd be out of that old school, and then all he'd have to do he'd just take care never to walk by her house. It was easy enough to use some other street when he had to go down town.

"The good old class of Nineteen-

Fourteen is about gone," he said to Fred Mitchell, who was still his most intimate friend when they reached the senior year. "Yes, sir; it's held together a good many years, Fred, but after June it'll be busted plum up, and I hope nobody starts a move to have any reunions. There's a good many members of the old class that I can stand and there's some I can't, but there's one I just won't! If we ever did call a reunion, that ole Yocum girl would start in right away and run the whole shebang, and that's where I'd resign! You know, Fred, the thing I think is the one biggest benefit of graduating from this ole school? It's never seen! Dora Yocum again!"

This was again his theme as he sat by the same friend's side, in the rear row of the class at Commencement, listening to the delivery of the Valedictory. "Thinks she's just sooblime, don't she?" he whispered morosely. "She wouldn't trade with the President of the United States right now. Never mind! Just about a half-an-hour more and that's the last of you, ole girl! Yes, sir, Fred; one thing we can feel pretty good over; this is where we get through with Dora Yocum!"

Ramsey and Fred had arranged to room together at Greenfield, the seat of the state university, and they made the short journey in company the following September. They arrived hilariously, anticipating pleasurable excitements in the way of "fraternity" pledgings and initiations, encounters with sophomores, class meetings, and elections; and, also, they were not absolutely without interest in the matter of Girls, for the state university was co-educational, and it was but natural to expect in so broad a field, all new to them, a possible vision of something rather thrilling. They whispered cheerfully of all these things during the process of matriculation, and signed the registrar's book on a fresh page; but when Fred had written his a distant glimpse of her on one of the campus paths, her thoughtful head bent over a book as she hurried to a classroom. This was bearable; and in the flattering agitations of being sought, and even hunted, by several "fraternities" simultaneously desirous of his becoming a sworn Brother, he almost forgot her. After a hazardous month the roommates fell into the arms of the last "frat" to seek them, and having undergone an evening of outrage which concluded with touching rhetoric and an oath taken at midnight, they proudly wore jeweled symbols on their breasts and were free to turn part of their attention to other affairs, especially the affairs of the Eleven.

However, they were instructed by the older brethren of their Order, whose duty it was to assist in the proper maneuvering of their young careers, that, although support of the "varsity" teams was important, they must neglect neither the spiritual nor the intellectual by-products of undergraduate doings. Therefore they became members of the college Y. M. C. A. and of the "Lumen Society."

According to the charter which it had granted itself, the "Lumen Society" was an "Organization of male and female students"—so "advanced" was this university—"for the development of the powers of debate and oratory, intellectual and sociological progress, and the discussion of all matters relating to philosophy, metaphysics, literature, art, and current events." A statement so formidable was not without a hushing effect upon Messrs. Milholland and Mitchell; they went to their first "Lumen" meeting in a state of fear and came away little reensured.

"I couldn't get up there," Ramsey declared, "I couldn't stand up there before all that crowd and make a speech, or debate in a debate, to save my soul and gizzard! Why, I'd just keel right over and haf to be carried out!"

"Well, the way I understand it," said Fred, "we can't get out of it. The seniors in the 'frat' said we had to join, and they said we couldn't resign, either, after we had joined. They said we just had to go through it, and after a while we'd get used to it and not mind it so much."

"I will!" Ramsey insisted. "I couldn't any more stand up there on my feet and get to spoutin' about sociology and the radical metaphysical chorus of the myophysical luzzoxum than I could fly a tyin' machine. Why, I—"

"Oh, that wasn't anything," Fred interrupted. "The only one that talked like that, he was that Bilekens; he's a tutor, or something, and really a member of the faculty. Most of the others just kind of blab-blahed around, and what any of 'em tried to get off their chests hardly amounted to terribly much."

"I don't care. I couldn't do it at all!"

"Well, the way it looks to me," Fred observed, "we simply got to. From what they tell me, the freshmen got to do more than anybody. Every other Friday night, it's all freshmen and nothin' else. You get a postal card on Monday morning in your mail, and it says 'Assignment' on it and—and—then it's got written underneath what you haf to do the next Friday night—oration or debate, or maybe just read from some old book or something. I guess we got to stand up there and try, anyway."

"All right," said Ramsey. "If they want me to commit suicide they can send me one of their ole 'assignments.' I won't need to commit s—, de, though, I guess. All I'll do, I'll just fall over in a fit, and stay in it."

And, in truth, when he received his first "Assignment," one Monday morning, a month later, he seemed in a fair way to fulfill his prophecy. The attention of his roommate, who sat at a window of their study, was attracted by sounds of strangulation. "What on earth's the matter, Ramsey?"

"Look! Look at this!"

Fred took the card and examined it with an amazement gradually merging into a pleasure altogether too perceptible:

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

Usually Amlable Bachelor Had Reason for Returning From Week-End Visit With Grouch.

"Did you have a nice week-end?" inquired the sweet young thing brightly of the popular bachelor.

"O, I suppose you might say so," he grumbled, with unexpected ill humor. "But I'd like to know how anybody can have a nice week-end when he can't sleep."

"What was the matter?"

"O, the usual thing—the guest pillow. How many times have I had a good night in an otherwise pleasant and comfortable room ruined by an elephantine pillow. If you lay just your head on it you break your neck; if you try to ease the slant by moving it down under your shoulders you might as well be sitting up."

"For themselves people have decently low, soft, comfortable things which are tucked out of sight in the daytime. But in the guest room the show pillows are the 'only pillows provided.'"

War on Barberry is up to Farmer

The conference for the prevention of grain rust, which was formed some weeks ago at a meeting at Minneapolis of representatives of the Illinois Agricultural association and nine other state farm bureau federations, is actively at work.

The following bulletin, sent out from the headquarters in Minneapolis, summarizes the accomplishments up to date and gives an idea of future plans.

Up to Farmer

Owing to the unfortunate fact that the large federal appropriation will not be available until July 1, the only manner in which the conference for the prevention of grain rust can make a real impression upon this year's crop is through the active working co-operation of all farmers.

Every day between now and the first of July counts.

A common barberry bush dug out now may mean the saving of many dollars worth of grain when harvest time comes around.

Take Out Roots

Remember that all the roots of the bush should be carefully taken out. In addition, it is requested that the locations of plantings removed be marked by a stake, in order that they may be readily found by the agents of the department of agriculture and watched for future growths.

The agricultural appropriations bill, recently passed by congress carries an appropriation of $350,000 for barberry eradication. This appropriation was obtained as the direct result of the representations made by this organization and is a tremendous increase over the amounts heretofore allowed and which would not have been granted this year had it not been for our work.

Use of Funds

The money will be spent by the barberry eradication leaders in the thirteen states covered by the campaign as follows:

Colorado, $4,500; Illinois, $21,750; Indiana, $21,750; Iowa, $30,750; Michigan, $21,750; Minnesota, $30,750; Montana, $4,500; Nebraska, $30,750; Wyoming, $4,500; North Dakota, $30,750; Ohio, $21,750; South Dakota, $30,750; Wisconsin, $30,750.

All government funds are handled by the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture.

95 Counties Will Celebrate Birthday

Ten years ago an idea was born in Illinois. As an infant it was first nourished in two northern Illinois counties. The youngster has grown to be such a husky chap that he now holds sway in 95 of the 102 counties in Illinois. His name is, Farm Bureau.

On the last day of June thousands of Illinois farmers are going to celebrate his birthday of ten years ago. The big event will be held at DeKalb, Illinois, on the beautiful campus of the Northern Illinois State Teachers' college.

On this picturesque spot will be staged a big pageant portraying the Farm Bureau development during its ten years of existence. More than 1,500 farm people are in the cast.

The scenery in and around DeKalb and the college grounds is unsurpassed. The drive to DeKalb will be a vacation trip in itself, especially if a few stop overs are made at points of interest.

Such a large audience is expected that large amplifiers will be erected so that the voice of speakers and actors can be heard clearly anywhere on the natural auditorium grounds.

A complete and up-to-the-minute radio outfit will be in action and visitors will be allowed to listen in freely to the "music of the air," the market reports, or other special messages.

Every party, expecting to go should notify the county farm adviser, so accommodations may be made for taking care of all who attend.

Aphis or Plant Lice

Many fruit trees this year, especially plums, are infested with plant lice. They may be found in great numbers on the tender ends of branches and under side of leaves.

These small green or dark brown insects do not eat the foliage but do the damage by piercing the leaves and branches with their pointed beaks and suck the sap, causing leaves to curl up and if continued long enough the leaves may turn brown and the end of the branches die.

To effectively control plant lice, a spray must be used that kills them by contact. The spray must be applied to the under side of leaves so that every aphis will get a coating of spray material over its body.

A spray made up of arsenate of lead alone is not very effective in controlling this pest because the foliage is not eaten. The only chance the plant has to get the poison is when their sharp beaks penetrate the leaf or twig to get the sap.

The aphis have some natural enemies, among them sweat flies, aphid lions and lady bugs. When these insects are numerous in the spring there is usually little trouble with aphis. Apparently this spring the natural enemies were few so the plant lice multiplied rapidly. The summer broods are born alive while the spring brood it hatched from eggs deposited the previous fall. The last summer brood develop wings and leave the trees to feed on weed and grass, but return to the tree before winter to deposit eggs for the first spring brood.

The best spray for controlling plant lice is Blackleaf 40. If the lice are very plentiful make the solution twice as strong as given in the directions on the can. Dissolve a pounds of soap in every twenty-five gallons of water used and mix with it the proper amount of Blackleaf 40 according to directions or stronger if the lice are very plentiful.

The soap makes the spray material spread in an even film over the bodies of the aphis.

Be sure to hit the under side of the leaves and shoot the spray on the tree from all angles.

GIRL'S STATEMENT

WILL HELP ANTIOCH

Many women will profit by the following statement of one of their sex: "I was afraid to eat on account of stomach trouble. Even rice did not agree. After taking Adler-ika I can eat anything." Adler-ika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, demobilizing foul matter which poisons stomach. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach, or sour stomach. Guards against appendicitis. It brings out poisonous matter you never thought was in your system.—S. H. Reeves, druggist.

HELPFUL HINTS WORTH NOTING

Walnut meats which have become rancid may be freshened and sweetened by pouring over the nut meats boiling water in which a little soda has been dissolved. Rinse in cold water and dry in a towel.

Nuts in the shell which have become too brittle to crack without breaking, if treated to a bath of boiling water, will crack and seem like fresh nuts. Keep the smallest candle ends and put into a small muslin bag. Use to polish the irons or keep the kitchen range clean and bright.

A broom which is badly worn may serve longer if all the rows of stitching are ripped out except the top row. Trim the broom after soaking in soap suds and drying thoroughly.

A bit of ginger added to doughnuts will keep them from soaking fat, which is both a saving of fat and indigestion.

The amount of bacon to be used for seasoning may be lessened if it is put through the meat grinder before adding to the dish. It is more evenly mixed through the dish in this way.

Stale bread put through the meat grinder, then browned in the oven, makes a fine breakfast cereal served with milk. This is especially good for an invalid.

A run in a silk stocking may be taken back with a crochet hook. Old stockings may be cut in strips and used for braided rugs.

Old inner tubes from auto tires make fine elastic for rompers, bloomers and shirt sleeves. Such elastic will survive several washings without losing its elasticity.

When making mayonnaise, if it curdles, beat another egg and add the curdled mixture very slowly, beating well between each addition. Have all materials cold.

Lemons placed in the oven and heated hot will render their juice more freely.

Mend a torn hair net in an emergency with a hair from your head threaded through a needle.

Destructive Volcanic Outburst.
Rising to a height of 13,000 feet, only a few miles from Kilauea, is the great volcano of Mauna Loa, which has intermittent eruptions, the last one of great violence beginning in October, 1919, and continuing for five months, the flow coming from a split in the mountain far down upon its flank. The black rolls of treacle lava flowed for miles through the sand flats, forests and bare rock slopes, finally emptying into the sea, where giant clouds of steam rose day and night. Myriads of sea fish were killed by the boiling water.

A Draughty Door.
Doors that do not fit very well are often the cause of draughts. This trouble may be overcome by cutting narrow strips from the inner tube of a discarded bicycle tire and fastening them neatly down on the door frame. If the strips are cut exactly to fit they will not be noticeable, for the rubber is not thick enough to make the door difficult to close, yet it will entirely exclude all draughts. The rubber also deadens the noise when the door is suddenly banged.—York Post.

Birds Guard Our Trees.
We can spray orchards and shade trees with poisonous insecticides, but we would stand agast at the impossible task of spraying all the trees in all the woods, says the American Forestry Magazine. We must perforce depend on the natural enemies of insects to protect our forests. Fortunately, birds and other foes of insects, wherever their numbers are sufficient, act as effective forest guardians.

Did Seem Time for New Hat?

When does a man need a new hat? This by Barrie Payne ought to shed some light on the question: "We shall have to purchase a new hat. It embarrassed us no little yesterday to discover, in observing the usual social amenity in the presence of a lady, that we had politely lifted the brim of our hat and left the crown in statu quo."—Detroit News.

Good "Grain" Results.

Artificial "graining" of wood has been practiced for a long time and some of the results obtained by the modern methods of printing from a master roll of real wood are remarkably realistic, says the American Forestry Magazine. Through this means it is possible to impart a good imitation of mahogany to plain, colorless woods and to metals.

Molasses on the Water.

During a hurricane in the West Indies the tank steamship Philip Publicker, carrying molasses in bulk, pumped overboard 280,000 gallons of the liquid to smooth off the seas and break their force. The action of the molasses on the water seemed to have the same effect as oil.—Ship News.

It looks like a big crowd at the big Fourth of July celebration at the Lake county fair grounds. The Waukegan Foresters will cross bats with a strong Kenosha team while the horse racing is going on on the fastest track ever.

Pointer for the Baby.

The nurse was in the room with the new baby. She heard Bobby softly enter and saw him stand by the crib watching with considerable interest the new baby using his lungs. The baby was a strong little fellow and he cried louder and louder. "Keep it up," advised Bobby gleefully, "that's the way I get things."

High Price of Forgery.

Three hundred years ago forgery in Britain was punishable by death. In earlier times still, the punishment was standing in the pillory, having both ears cut off, having the nostrils slit and perpetual imprisonment.

There will be a fast base ball game and four regular honest-to-goodness horse races at the Lake county fair grounds at Libertyville on the Fourth of July. Do not miss this, will be the best ever.

How Halifax Got Its Name.

Halifax, the capital of Nova Scotia, founded by Lord Cornwallis in 1749, is named after the earl of Halifax, the English statesman who served his country in the house of commons and house of lords from 1688 until his death in 1715. In England, the city of Halifax is of considerable importance as a market town.

Plan Eight-Team League of Neighboring Teams

An effort is being made in Waukegan to inaugurate the Wisconsin-Illinois base ball league, with several small towns of Northern Illinois and two towns from Kenosha county, Wis., on the circuit. The present plans are for an eight club league, playing Sunday base ball exclusively, with the exception of two holiday dates.

Towns included in Kenosha county, Wis., are Wilmet and Genoa Junction, both well known for their interest in base ball. In Illinois, Waukegan, McHenry, Libertyville, Antioch, Lake Villa and Waukegan. The latter is the largest town on the circuit.

Invitations to express their views upon the subject of the league were sent to the managers of these teams Saturday. If agreeable to all, a meeting is to be called in Waukegan during the latter part of this week when a schedule will be arranged, lasting probably until the latter part of September.

Helen and Edith were invited to a party, and as it was quite a distance for them to go alone it was decided to let Helen's brother Donald go with them. His mother told him if they asked him to stay he could, provided they phoned and told her. Donald took the girls to the door, and said: "My mother said I could stay and eat, too, provided you phoned and told her about it."

Arrangement.

Contrast is a good thing, but we must observe the laws of harmonious contrast, and unless we have space enough to secure these, it is better to be content with unity and simplicity, which are always to be had.—Lelgh Hunt.

The KITCHEN CABINET

What seems to grow fairer to me as life goes by is the love and grace and tenderness of its not its wit and cleverness, and grandeur of knowledge—grand as knowledge is—but just the laughter of little children, and the friendship of friends and the cozy talk by the fireside and the sight of flowers and the sound of music.—J. R. Green.

GOOD THINGS FOR OCCASIONS

To serve with a consomme or a light soup the following is especially good:

Bread Rings.—

Out bread into rings with a doughnut cutter after cutting the slices one-eighth of an inch in thickness. Brush each with butter and sprinkle with grated cheese seasoned with cayenne. Put into a moderate oven to melt the cheese and lightly brown the rings. Arrange on a lace paper doilie.

Almond Cakes.—Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add one-half cupful of sugar gradually, beating well, then the yolks of four eggs well beaten, one-fourth of a cupful of milk, and seven-eighths of a cupful of flour mixed and sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Beat thoroughly and fill small paper cases two-thirds full of the mixture; sprinkle with shredded almonds and powdered sugar, place in a shallow baking pan and bake a delicate brown.

Apricot Coups.—Drain a can of apricots and cut in small pieces. To the sirup add one-half cupful of sugar and let simmer three minutes. Add apricots and cook until the sirup is thick. Half fill glasses with vanilla ice cream, put in a tablespoonful of the apricots, cover with ice cream and garnish with strips of angelica and a few red berries.

Coconut Macarons.—Take one tablespoonful of butter, add one beaten egg, one and one-half cupfuls of oatmeal, browned and ground, one-half cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of coconut. Mix well and bake in a moderate oven. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a baking sheet.

Peppermint Macarons.—Take one cupful of freshly popped corn, put through the meat grinder, add one cupful of walnut meats, also put through the grinder. Beat until stiff the whites of three eggs. Add one cupful of powdered sugar gradually, beat well, add the nuts and corn with a bit of salt. Drop by spoonfuls on a baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven.

A FEW QUICK BREADS

The waffle is especially welcome during cold weather, and is good made of sour milk.

Waffles.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of sugar, three well beaten egg yolks and one cupful of sour milk. Add the soda to the milk, then the egg yolks and flour with salt; fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter or other shortening. Beat well and cook on a hot waffle iron. Serve with any cold sirup.

Peanut Butter Bread.—Sift two cupfuls of flour with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one teaspoonful of salt, add one cupful of peanut butter, one-half cupful of sugar and mix well. Beat two eggs, add one cupful of milk, then add flour and beat well. Put in a well greased bread pan and bake thirty to forty minutes.

Health Biscuit.—Take two cupfuls of whole wheat flour, one teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of shortening, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one cupful of milk and one quarter of a cupful of minced raisins. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a buttered baking sheet and bake one-half hour. This makes a dozen biscuits.

Coffee Cake.—Mix together two tablespoonfuls of flour, two tablespoonfuls of shortening and two tablespoonfuls of sugar with a teaspoonful of cinnamon. When well blended set away and later sprinkle over the cake. Take two cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one egg and one-half cupful of milk. Mix well and bake in a sheet about twenty to thirty minutes. A few raisins may be added if desired.

Cream Biscuit.—Take one quart of flour, three teaspoonfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and when all are well blended add enough sweet cream to make of the right consistency to roll. Bake in a hot oven.

Which Is Most Important To You What Goes into a Can of Paint or What Comes Out of It?

A long time ago, Lowe Brothers found out that six different ingredients had to be used in making High Standard Paint, if their customers were to get the satisfaction and lastingness out of every can that they had a right to expect.

They found out, also, that a different mixing and grinding process had to be employed.

You're not particularly interested in the manufacturing details, but you do want satisfaction and lastingness in paint.

That is what Lowe Brothers put into every can of High Standard. It is what you always get out of every can. Come in and ask for free literature.

GAINS 8 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS' TIME

Dyspepsia Entirely Overcome and She Eats, Sleeps and Feels Better Than in Years, Says Boston Resident.

"I have actually gained eight pounds in two weeks' time and am now eating better, sleeping better and feeling better than I have in three or four years," said Mrs. Celesta Pelli, 42 Prince street, Boston, Mass., recently, in telling of the great benefits she has derived from the use of Tanlac.

"My stomach was in such a bad fix before I took Tanlac that I did not dare eat much of anything, for if I did I would have so much pain and distress from indigestion that I felt like I was going to die. I was so run down and weak from lack of nourishment that I could not do my housework."

"I was so nervous I couldn't keep still during the day nor sleep at night. I can see now if it had not been for Tanlac I would have had to give up entirely. I am now feeling strong and healthy and all the credit belongs to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Well Said.

Woman Relied Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Emporia, Kansas.—"I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine years ago when I was a girl. For several years I had severe pains at menstrual periods, making me very weak and interfering with my regular duties. I tried several remedies without obtaining relief. I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by friends and it restored me to normal health. I often have occasion and do recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to my own. You may use these facts as a testimonial."

There are many women who first used our Vegetable Compound during their girlhood days. They found it a valuable help during trying periods. In later years they use it whenever they feel those annoying symptoms which women often have.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is prepared carefully from the best quality of medicinal plants, whose properties are especially adapted to correct the troubles women have.

URGE PRESIDENT END COAL TIEUP

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Churches Join in Appeal to Harding..

ASK A NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Call Upon Government to Take Immediate Steps to Bring the Disputants Together for a Settlement of Strike.

Washington, June 21.—President Harding was asked to take steps to end the coal strike in a joint appeal presented to him by the commission on the church and social service and the Federal Council of Churches, with which are affiliated 30 great Protestant communions, the department of social action of the National Catholic Welfare council and the social justice commission of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. This is the first time, as far as is known, that these representative organizations of Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews have taken joint action in an industrial matter. The churches in their appeal for action asked the President:

To call a national conference, To get the facts of the coal industry through a government investigation.

Not to wait until the suffering women and children of the mining camps have become a national calamity.

To end the strike now. The appeal says in part: "To the President of the United States: We desire to express to you, on behalf of the three great religions that we represent, our conviction that the time has arrived when our government should act to bring about a conference in the bituminous coal industry to end the present strike."

"Whenever either disputant in a controversy declines to employ the methods of conference and arbitration it becomes proper for the government to intervene. It is inconceivable that public action should wait until the sufferings of women and children in the mining towns have reached the proportions of a national calamity."

"On March 31, 1922, representatives of the commission on the church and social service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and the department of social action of the National Catholic Welfare council put before you a resolution adopted by their respective bodies urging government action looking toward the settlement of the coal controversy."

"At that time it was pointed out that the operators in the central competitive field, comprising Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania, had pledged themselves two years previously to confer with the union in order to negotiate a new contract. We wish to express our approval of the action of the administration in publicly fixing responsibility for the failure of such a conference upon certain coal operators who were unwilling to be governed by the terms of their agreement."

"It is a matter of profound satisfaction that the strike has been remarkably orderly. We have also been gratified to note that the press has made an unusually successful effort to record the facts of this conflict. Nevertheless, nothing effectual has been done to bring it to an end."

"We therefore, are impelled to urge once more that the government take steps to end the coal strike by bringing the operators and miners into conference."

"We would respectfully call your attention again to the necessity of securing adequate information concerning the essential facts of the coal industry. In particular, the absence of authoritative information concerning cost of production and profits, has served to increase discontent among the mine workers."

"In the anthracite fields where conferences are still in progress the lack of full information regarding the financial facts of the industry may cause the failure of all attempts to negotiate a new agreement. The consumers resent high prices for coal, but are unable to form an intelligent judgment as to the cause, on account of the lack of authoritative information."

"We call upon our government, out of concern for the well-being of the nation as a whole, the health and comfort of the miners, and the preservation of the mining industry, to take immediate steps to bring the disputants together in order to secure a just settlement of the present strike and an organization of the coal industry on the basis of the maximum service to the nation."

Minister to Egypt Named.

NEW 26 MILLION RAIL PAY SLASH

Three Hundred Twenty Thousand Clerical and Station Workers Affected.

"WHITE COLLAR" CLASS HIT

Cut Is Regarded as the Final "Wallop" by the Labor Board Before the Unions Perfect Their Strike Plans.

Chicago, June 10.—More than 320,000 railroad employees are affected by a $20,000,000 wage slash announced by the railroad labor board.

The classes of employees affected are the clerical and station forces, which are heaviest hit by the decision, the signal department employees and stationary engine and boiler room employees. The new wage scales will take effect July 1.

This cut is the third in a recent series made by the board and makes a grand total of wage cuts on railroad pay rolls of $134,988,921.33.

It is regarded as practically the final cut in the present review of wages by the board, as the only class of employees not acted on is that of the railway telegraphers.

The telegraphers, it is learned, do not expect a decision in their wage question for some months. This is because the principal matters of contention they have before the board regard the alleged inequality of their pay on different railroads.

The board's latest decision is not complete, as a rejoinder to the dissent filed by minority members is being prepared for record by the majority. The main portion of the decision is released for publication.

In filing the decision the board has departed from the lines adopted in its two previous decisions by submitting figures tending to show that under the new scale, as compared with the "before government control" period, the employees, although cut in wages, are actually receiving a higher scale of pay and receive wages having a higher per cent of purchase power than in 1917.

More than a million railroad workers have now been reduced in pay by the three decisions, this final cut coming fast on the heels of the announcement by labor leaders, meeting in convention at Cincinnati, that answers to ballots recently mailed out are unanimously in favor of a nation-wide railway strike.

The "white collar" class of rail employees contributed the largest part of the wage slash. More than 180,000 clerks are cut 3 and 4 cents an hour, the smaller rate applying to clerks with experience of two or more years in their line of work. These same employees were cut 6 cents an hour in the wage reduction of last July.

Certain employees in the classes considered in the latest decision are not affected. Those whose rate of pay is unchanged are: Train dispatchers, dining car stewards, employees represented by the Marine Culinary Workers' Association of California and floating equipment employees, whose wage disputes are remanded.

O. K.'S RUM ON U. S. SHIPS

Chairman Lasker of Shipping Board Declares Prohibition Laws Don't Apply to American Vessels.

Washington, June 10.—The shipping board holds that "neither the Volstead act nor the eighteenth amendment apply to American ships outside the three-mile limit," Chairman Lasker declared in a letter to Adolphus Busch III, vice president of the Anheuser-Busch, Inc., of St. Louis.

Confirming reports that alcoholic drinks were being served on American ships at sea, Mr. Lasker asserted that the shipping board had approved this custom "both from the standpoint of legal right and from the standpoint of the life and security of our national merchant marine."

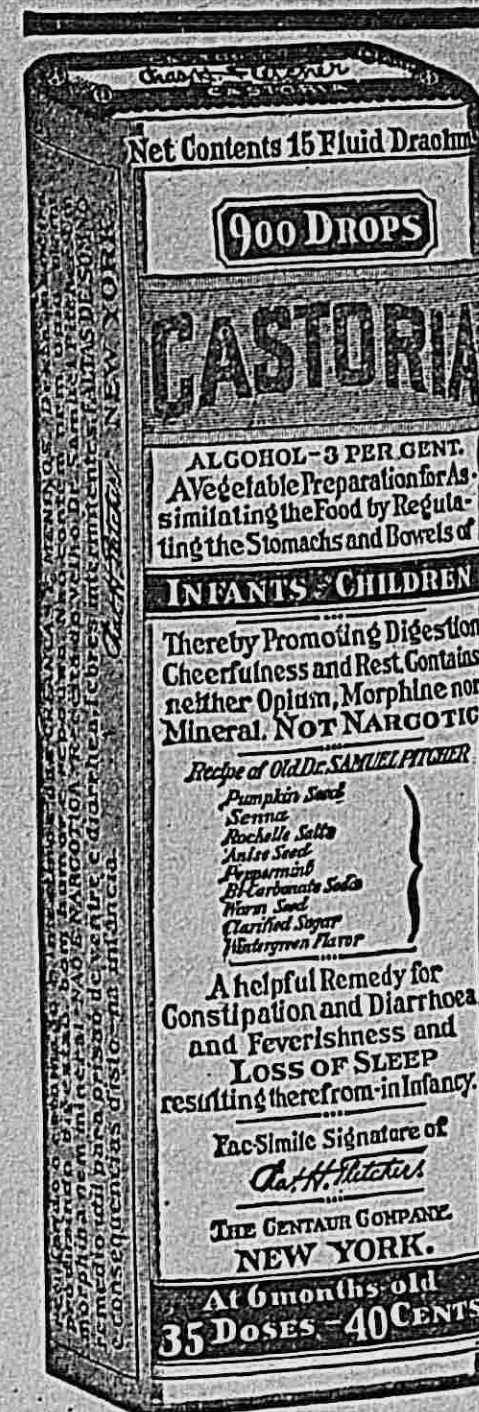

"The shipping board has permitted and will continue to permit the serving of liquor on its ships," he continued, "so long as foreign-flag ships are allowed to enter and depart from our shores exercising that privilege."

St. Louis, June 10.—A letter charging the United States is "incomparably the biggest bootlegger in the world," written by August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., while on the way to Europe aboard the steamship George Washington, and which has been forwarded to President Harding, was made public here.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

KNEW NO BOSS BY THAT NAME

But Young Man Finally Figured Out Just Whom His Acquaintance Might Have Meant.

Office politics are not unknown even in the government bureau. Indeed—though perhaps this should be whispered—maybe they're better known there than anywhere else.

A bright young man holds down a very responsible job in one government unit and holds it down very capably. His nominal superior is generally recognized as merely a figurehead. Relations between the two are a bit strained.

The other day a Washingtonian, talking of the bright young man, remarked: "I nearly ran down your boss the other day in Scott circle." And he mentioned the boss by name. The young man looked blank. "Have I a boss by that name?" he asked. "Oh, yes—I know whom you mean. We have a dead man up at the shop by that name."—Washington Post.

WHO SAID "WEAKER VESSEL"?

Little Incident Shows How Much Chance Mere Man Has With Real Mistress of Finance.

Mrs. Norman Whitehouse, the patriotic ex-suffragist who has gone into the leather business, said at a tea in New York:

"Woman should succeed magnificently in business, she is such a past grand mistress of finesse."

"I know a pretty girl who once took the part of palmist in a gypsy tent at a fair. A young man came in to have his fortune told, and the pretty girl, holding his hand in hers tenderly, said:

"You have an extraordinary character. Your most remarkable quality is generosity. You hate skinflints, you despise the money hoarder, and you look on avarice as a shameful vice. A large and almost reckless liberality marks your path through life."

"Thank you," said the young man, blushing and giggling. "You are flatter me, I'm afraid."

"Not at all," said the pretty girl, "and now I'm going to wrap you up these three dozen tickets for our turkey raffle. They're only a stamoleon apiece. Three tens, a five, and a one. Thank you; that's just right."

All who joy would win must share it—happiness was born a twin.

"Watch me," said the strong swimmer, "I'm not afraid"

So he matched his strength against the swirl of the rapids, and laughed at the danger, and kept repeating the stunt, until—

It was the day the life-savers had been waiting for—that day the call for help came.

It's an easy matter to smile at coffee warnings when you're going strong.

But a good many strong swimmers won't risk the rapids, and a good many coffee drinkers are beginning to think of the caffeine in coffee.
